

RANDOM EVENTS PRESENTS

British 'Others'

THURSDAY 6.45PM 28TH APRIL 2016

Join ordinary people and specially selected speakers in what should be a fun, passionate and informative night on identity and 'Britishness'.

Dr Aminul Hoque MBE

Award winning author, youthworker and lecturer

British-Islamic Identity: Third-Generation Bangladeshis from East London

How does it feel to be perceived as the violent, terrorist, un-British 'other', to be a minority in a majority situation, to have no sense of belonging, to be voiceless, marginalised and invisible?

Dr Hoque will examine these complex issues through the lives and multifaceted identities of six British-born third-generation Bangladeshis from East London. Do they see themselves as Bangladeshi, British, Muslim, Londoners, none of these or a fusion of them all? Their stories are powerful, clear and unsettling, charting their journeys from invisibility to visibility and from the periphery to the core of British social life. With a sense of displacement, alienation and non-belonging, we gain a better understanding and insight into the sociocultural worlds that many of our young people are living in.

Follow Aminul on Twitter @BrIslam2015

Other speakers: Chine McDonald, Usha Reifsnider and Chimmi Ezigboh.

For more info: randomevents4u@gmail.com Blog: <http://icrandom.blogspot.co.uk/>

Cost (incl. food): £4 (adults) and £3 (Discounted). Tickets on Eventbrite (cheapest) or on the door.

Where? Diorama Art Studios, 201 Drummond Street, London NW1 3FE (Nearest station: Euston, Euston Square and Warren Street. Buses: 10, 73, 205, 30, 27, 134, 29, 253, 168, 59, 68, 18 etc.)

